We feel that this trip represents excellent value for money, because of 4 hours of ski school per day, it includes all meals and also that we are travelling by air. We have specifically selected this resort as it has a good snow record and we are obviously hoping for good conditions for this week, early in the winter season. We highly recommend this trip for those who have not skied before, but welcome those who have previously skied too. Snowboarding is not an option on this trip as it incurs significantly extra costs and a requires guaranteed minimum number.
